TEACH LOYALTY TO FOREIGNERS

FORD ENGLISH SCHOOLS INCULCATE PRINCIPLES OF PURE AMERICANISM IN STUDENTS.

TRIAL DRAWING TO A CLOSE

Attorneys Begin Final Arguments After Ford Counsel Presents Dramatic Testimony On Educational Work.

Mt. Clemens, Mich.—Henry Ford's counsel kept until the final day on which testimony was presented, the strongest arguments in their possession. Not until the trial was within a few hours of its close did they bring to the witness stand Clinton C. DeWitt, superintendent of the Ford English school.

"Mr. Ford," said the witness, "was of the opinion that you could not successfully put over one idea while there were 52 languages spoken in the factory, so to promote that one idea, which was and is Americanism, he insisted that every workman must learn to speak the 'American'—not the English—language."

"There were 3,000 students in the school before the United States entered the war and the factory was practically turned over to government work."

Sample lessons were read by the witness. Parts are given as follows: "Every good American loves and respects the United States Flag."

"Our flag stands for liberty, justice and peace."

"Its colors are red, white and blue. The red stands for love, the white stands for purity, the blue stands for truth."

"American flags," said the witness, "were used profusely in the school room and a silk flag always flutters before an electric fan."

Teach Americanism.

The men are taught that there is no greater title than "American citizen" and are urged to accept the advantages of education offered by this country so that they may fit themselves, through knowledge, to defend their liberties.

Pictures of great Americans adorn the classroom, special exercises are held on the birthday of great leaders of the nation and finally, when the class graduates, it is presented with souvenir American flags and is given membership in what is known as the "American Club." The Federal and state courts recognize a diploma from the Ford English school as an evidence of adequate preparation for citizenship, it was shown.

Through this testimony counsel sought to bring out that the man who taught 3,000 foreigners to love their adopted country and to respect its flag could scarcely be called a nationalist and that a man who sought every possible method to instill love for the Stars and Stripes in the hearts of those who come to it from foreign shores, could never have made the slanderous statements attributed to him by Tribune counsel.

Mr. Ford, it was shown, loaned all his educational workers to the government at the time war broke out. The war department found the method used in the Ford English school so valuable that they introduced them in all training camps. Henry Ford paid the salaries of the men he loaned to the government for the work.

Closing Arguments Open.

Closing arguments in the case opened the last of the week. Attorney Van Lueking led off for Ford counsel. He called attention first to the testimony which showed that the Tribune, out of intervention in Mexico because it thought such action would lead to conquest or at least to great riches for the United States, had found Henry Ford blocking its path just when its long campaign gave promise of bearing fruit. Thereupon, said the attorney, the Tribune set out to destroy Mr. Ford's influence, to sweep him out of its path and to still his voice which pleaded for a course which would help the bleeding republic to the south to regain her feet and to strike forth on a new highroad of education and freedom.

Attorney Weymouth Kirkland opened for the Tribune. He declared that what Mr. Ford had done since 1916—when the Tribune called him an anarchist—had nothing whatever to do with the situation as it was when the newspaper stigmatized the manufacturer as an enemy of his country. He did not deny that Mr. Ford had done an immense and valuable work for the government during the war but he claimed that this did not alter the facts as they were before war broke out. Mr. Ford, the attorney insisted, was an anarchist at the time the Tribune described him as such, and the truth he said was sufficient justification for the attack.

Water and the Human Body.
The specific gravity of water and the human body is virtually the same. A body in the water is supported by equal pressure at all points. It is more likely to be at ease than under more circumstances. It is, therefore, more likely that it may move without pain. So cripples are often given their exercise in the water.

Soldiers' Monument

"The idea of erecting memorial buildings instead of monuments of marble or bronze to the men who lost their lives in the war is such a logical one, that it is being adopted not only by many states, but by the nations," said Congressman J. Campbell Cantrell, in discussing the proposed State building at the University of Kentucky. Mr. Cantrell was in Lexington enroute to Washington.

"There is now in progress at the national capital a movement to erect a mammoth convention hall, in which will be placed on bronze tablets the names of all Americans who lost their lives in the service. It will be used by multitudes who will be continually reminded of the sacrifices made by the men in whose honor it will be built, and of the principles of democracy for which they died. With each day's use by a people seeking to perpetuate the memory of the dead, it will become a more suitable tribute to the dead and a greater example to the living. It will be a monument more lasting than brass, and a worthy memorial.

"Kentucky should take the same steps to honor her 2,800 sons who died in the service, and I shall do everything in my power to promote the campaign to obtain $300,000 for a State memorial building on the campus of the University of Kentucky. It is particularly fitting that the building should be at the University rather than at the State Capital, since it will be continually before the eyes and in the use of the young men and women who will reap the benefits of the peace won by the dead heroes, many of whom came from their number. I understand that the proposed building will be used to house student activities, and will have a large auditorium for student assemblies. Such a use will further dignify the memorial, which is to have in the rotunda, tablets bearing the names of men from each county who gave their lives, and will keep forever green the memory of those we wish to honor.

"Since the University has dominated the site, I am sure there will be little difficulty in raising the money needed for the building. The amount asked is not large, smaller than that asked by several states which are planning similar memorials, and it is fitting that the necessary fund should be raised by popular subscriptions. We should not let any of Kentucky's sons go unremembered, when their glorious deeds have lighted the pages of the nation's history in every war in which they have participated, and I believe there is no better way of showing appreciation of their sacrifice."

A GREAT REMEDY.

The merits of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy are well known and appreciated, but there is occasionally a man who had no acquaintance with them should read the following by F. H. Dear, a hotel man at Dupuy, Mont. "Four years ago I used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy with such wonderful results that I have since recommended it to my friends.

The four railroad brotherhoods are again asking more money or threatening to strike. They are asking big increases in pay for several hundred thousand men, and yet the railroads cannot make enough money to pay them at the exorbitant freight and passenger rates which are being charged. They are also asking that the government take permanent control of roads, and there is no telling what else they will want. Railroad men are the best paid men we have to day and yet they are not satisfied. If the spirit of Bolshevism is not being manifested by railroad men, it is certainly something that is very close akin. Ex-President Wm. Howard Taft, who has shown himself to be one of the big men of our country, and who has always been fighting for the right, regardless of political, religious or civic conditions says of this unwarranted and unpatriotic request:

"In regard to the railroad men's proposition to congress to buy the roads and turn them over to the unions, former President Taft takes a firm stand against it as Socialism run wild, and say that such Soviet designs should be fought to a finish in this country which has no place for such movements."

In his address to congress proposing remedies to check the high cost of living, the president said that existing laws were inadequate and recommended that war food control law be continued and provided with substantial penalty for profiteering, and that a cold storage law be passed limiting the time on cold storage and shipment of goods that did not comply with the provisions be excluded from interstate are intrastate transportation. All goods should be marked with the price prevailing when they went into cold storage and the price when they left the producer and a federal system of licensing corporations engaging in interstate commerce be adopted, which would insure competition and prevent unreasonable profits in the methods of marketing. He maintained that the high prices were not justified by the shortage of supply, present or prospective, but were created in many cases artificially, and deliberately by vicious practices. The law of supply and demand no longer cuts any figure but every man seems to be possessed with the desire to boost prices without regard to reason.

The president reminded his hearers that the problem of the high cost of living could not be solved alone by legislative or administrative action; that the producer, the manufacturer, the retailer and other handlers of food-stuffs and merchandise can help in the solution by honest and fair dealing and not try to get all they can at the expense of the general public, which should be guarded in its purchases. Strikes only make matters worse and no settlement of grievances can be made while men are in a temper and unwilling to consider the general interest.

The speaker also gave the senate a jolt by saying that it was in a measure responsible for the general unrest, by holding up the ratification of the treaty and adding to the element of doubt that now disturbs the world, and he urged it to promptly ratify it and the league of nations and thereby not only establish peace but insure the means by which peace may be maintained. If the senate will do this and congress legislate as the president suggests, the great menace that threatens the very foundation of the government will in a large measure be removed. We shall see if patriotism or partisanship takes precedent in the deplorable situation.

APOLOGY.

This has been fair week and the Signal force wanted a rest and were entitled to it, and if the paper is a little late and short of reading matter, you know the reason. No people work more regular than does the force of the country paper, including all from the "devil" to the editor and few are the vacations. We call attention to our ads and if you will read every one of them, will find them entertaining and valuable reading. They have news you need to know and the facts gathered from a legitimate ad is just as valuable as most of the news items which appear. Fair visitors and fair news which we do not have this week will appear in our next issue.

An 18-piece Italian Band furnished by Coley's famous shows will make the music at the Brodhead Fair.

Balloon ascensions each day of the BRODHEAD FAIR. Other free acts as well. Something to entertain you every minute.

Rev. Charley Cox will preach at the old Chestnut Ridge church house the Fourth Saturday night at 8 o'clock and Sunday at 11 o'clock.

If you have no catalog of the is worth your time and effort this year to be in this exhibit.

The pie supper given at Level Green school house on Thursday night of last week was a decided success. Mrs. Sue Ping is the teacher and the amount realized was $17.15.

The attraction that will exhibit at the Brodhead Fair will be the Big Wild Animal Circus, Old Plantation Show, the Champion Wrestling and Boxers, Zemo the wild Girl and Big California Cabaret.

S. E. Hellard is again a citizen of Mt. Vernon and his daughter, Miss Lucinda Hellard, is again manager of the Mt. Vernon exchange. Miss Hellard was manager at one time, and at no time has the service ever been more satisfactory than when under her control.

Mrs. Ann Phillips celebrated her eightieth birthday Sunday, Aug. 10th with her grandchildren Earle, Morris, Anna, Lou, Edith, and Bernice Phillips and niece Mrs. Valley Fish at her home in Wildie. She is still enjoying good health and we hope to see her celebrate many more.

The Manager of Coley's famous shows that will have the Midway at the Brodhead Fair reports his company will occupy the entire 10 acre area inclosed by the race track. Up-to-date riding devices such as the Merry Go Round, Ferris Wheel and such things to entertain the children will be seen on this midway as well as Negro Minstrels and other good shows

THE FAIR.

The Mt. Vernon Fair is over and from a standpoint of the exhibits, both in floral hall and show rings and the splendid crowds, the 1919 exhibition surpasses any that we have had.
When we say it was the best we are quoting from others, and some who have never thought much of the fair in the past, were so thoroughly pleased that they have declared themselves ever hereafter fair boosters.

The midway was a failure but that was all due to the fact that the Coley's Greater Shows, which were to furnish all concessions, free acts etc., never did get on the grounds as the result of the strike on the C. & O. railroad, the cars containing all the outfit is still standing on the side track at Prestonburg. No merry-go round, Ferris wheel or anything that will amuse the little folks. But without the Midway the crowd never got weary and there was something doing all the time to entertain them.
The Mt. Vernon Band furnished the music, which was good and plenty of it. Mt. Vernon, like Berea, where they played last week, has already told the boys to be ready for next year. The soldier boys under command of Lieut. Vic Price and Sergt. Everett Mullins furnished the crowd the entertainment which brought them up to the highest tension.
The majority of the thirty or forty boys in the march had seen service in France and some bore the marks of the real fighting.
Nothing could have been appreciated more. Good horses and good cattle were shown in every ring and in some of those rings appeared some of the best Rock-castle County horses and cattle ever shown in any fair in the county. The Floral Hall was the admiration of everyone who saw it. It was unquestionably the best ever shown at the Mt. Vernon Fair. Next week will appear a list of all prize winners.

The Brodhead Fair Management is not sparing time nor money this year to make the home of their fair a delightful place for the coming exhibition Aug. 20-22. The grounds are open to the public and is now being used for a park, with its good shade, water and mile track in good condition makes it delightful for a rest or for motoring. The public is invited to visit it before the fair that you may tell your friends we will be prepared to entertain them. Some special arrangements will be made to park automobiles in the good shade and plenty of room is always found for those who drive.

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

Owing to the disappointment of the railroad strike the Coley's

How Are You Going to Keep 'Em on the Farm?

ANSWER:
With Electric Lights

Delco-Lights Makes the Farm Home More Attractive to the Girl or Boy

When Delco-Light is installed there is no longer as great incentive for the son or daughter to go to the city. Its conveniences are brought to their home in the country.

The daughter can have electric lights in her room, an electric curling iron and all other comforts that are so much desired by young woman. It makes the chores easier for the son and provides power for operating labor saving tools.

Delco-Light so modernizes the farm home that it brings cheer and satisfaction to every member of the family.

If you are desirous of bringing your home up to date and of giving your wife and family a real home, with lights, bath, running water, etc., get in touch with
